

Code of Conduct for the Red Door Play Festival

The Muhlenberg Theatre Association enriches the campus with theatrical experiences. We do this by providing opportunities to create, participate in, and attend a variety of engaging performances. The Red Door Play Festival is a festival held each semester with the purpose of providing a production opportunity for student directors, designers, stage managers, and actors. The MTA strives to create a positive and professional environment in all theatrical endeavors, and assumes that participants will live up to these expectations as well. The MTA will hold all participants to the highest standard of conduct. All participants are expected to treat each other with respect both personally and professionally. In order to ensure that all participants act in accordance with these expectations we ask that any concerns be brought forward to the Red Door Play Festival Coordinator or a member of the MTA Executive Board. From there, the situation will come under review by the MTA Executive Board and any individual found to have violated these standards may have their future participation monitored and/or limited. This will be at the discretion of the MTA Executive Board.

Questions or concerns about the above statement should be brought to the Red Door Play Festival Coordinator.
